

JujuMama Question and Answers Session #1

Is JujuMama affiliated with a religion?

No. JujuMama is not a religion or a way of life. JujuMama is a consulting agency that aids women and men of any religion in attaining new levels of connectedness to Source. We intend only to support you in whatever tradition you are a part of or support you as an independent thinker (if you do not subscribe to religion). For the record JujuMama believes that we are all one and that there is no such thing as a path that does not lead to truth...

Is Juju another way to say Voodoo?

No. Juju or Jou Jou is a French word meaning "little toys". When the French explored Africa, they were introduced to basic shrine items and beautiful carvings the Africans had used for centuries. The French called these artifacts - Jou Jou. This term came down through the English language to mean anything affiliated with shrine items (magical items) of the ancient African shamans and medicine people.

Presently Americans are finally learning about Quantum Physics and "Law of Attraction". The history of the indigenous cultures worldwide shows that this practice of using Quantum thought and the Law of Attraction was the basis to indigenous tradition! Jou Jou were little items carved by the ancients to create a picture or image to infect the subconscious mind just as an affirmation or a picture drawn by an individual today is used to summon Law of Attraction! Juju is a word that is so simple and yet so complex. It describes the actual WAY that the ancients pioneered the use of Law of Attraction. They built shrines that held images of what they wanted reality to be!! How profound!!! This is why I called my business JujuMama!! Because I am a woman who uses the power of the Law of Attraction just as the ancients did!! Images = thoughts = reality!

Isn't the Goddess culture a religion in itself?

No. The recognition of the power of the feminine is a state of consciousness, not a religion. When we think of the Goddess, we think of the YIN or feminine element in the universe. Just as when we think of God we think of the YANG, or male element of the Universe.

These two forces are demonstrated clearly in the fact that there are two types to our species – male and female. These are two distinct energies and can be scientifically analyzed as having separate traits and characteristics. When we educate you about the Goddess, we are educating you about the part of yourself that makes you uniquely female. And of course God is masculine.

JujuMama believes that Men and Women both have parts of yin and yang inside. However, these traits can be easily categorized and there is great benefit in the study of these complimentary forces...

For the record, we speak of God and Goddess as concepts of YIN and YANG rather than something in the sky or actual entities.
